1. The Thomson Reuters Tax Q & A Service ("the Service") is offered and supported through Thomson Reuters, but all answers are provided by the accounting firm, Moore Stephens Perth.

2. Disclaimer:

Your use of the Service is subject to the Terms of Trade and the following disclaimers and further terms and conditions as amended from time to time:

- a. You acknowledge that Thomson Reuters is not a professional services firm and cannot and does not give legal, tax, accounting or other professional advice.
- b. Thomson Reuters does not provide the information, nor does it endorse that information, commentary or advice or warrant that the Service is appropriate for or suits your needs.
- c. You agree that the information provided by Moore Stephens Perth is dependent on the information you provide in using the Service and you are fully and solely responsible for the provision of that information.
- d. In providing tax guidance to you, Moore Stephens Perth will be entitled to assume that the information provided by you is complete and accurate and that all material facts have been disclosed.
- e. Whilst every care will be taken to provide you with accurate taxation answers, you acknowledge that the Service is only intended to provide general advice based on the information provided by you. It is not intended to provide comprehensive tax, accounting, legal, investment, consulting or other professional advice. Accordingly, Moore Stephens Perth reserves the right to decline to answer any questions which, in its view, exceed the scope of the Service.
- f. Moore Stephens Perth may choose to request further information, whether before or after the provision of an answer, but will be under no obligation to do so.
- g. Any answers to taxation questions provided by Moore Stephens Perth will be based on the legislation enacted on the date the advice is given. Moore Stephens Perth will be under no obligation to update the advice given because of any subsequent changes in legislation, or because of any subsequent rulings, statements or judgements issued by the Australian Tax Office or a court or any other authority.
- h. Neither Thomson Reuters nor Moore Stephens Perth are responsible for any mistake that you make in understanding the answers provided.

3. Indemnity

You agree that you indemnify us in relation to any cost, loss, liability, or damage that any of you, your client, or a third party suffers:

- a. because you fail to obtain formal advice from an appropriately qualified professional advisor concerning whether the Service is suitable for its intended purpose or is suitable for particular circumstances;
- b. because of the information you provide to Moore Stephens Perth when using our service;
- c. because you breach these terms and conditions in some other way.

4. Obtaining Answers:

You will be required to complete a template provided in Checkpoint with the factual information and any necessary background pertaining to the request prior to Moore Stephens Perth providing any response.

5. Publication of Q&A Database:

Thomson Reuters' reserves the right to publish in print or electronic format any questions and answers resulting from the use of the Service, but in so doing, Moore Stephens Perth and Thomson Reuters' will use their best endeavours to ensure that any confidential information or information capable of identifying any individual concerned is removed prior to publication.

6. Permitted Use of the Service:
